

Veggie Coated Nuts

Consumers are more aware of the importance of nuts and vegetables in their daily consumption. The Middle Eastern market for nuts and seeds will continue to grow in the upcoming 5 years, driven by health & premiumisation.

OUR VEGETABLE COATED NUT PRODUCTS DELIVERS THAT CHALLENGING BALANCE

- This product cleverly addresses the need to drive more flavour into different concepts whilst providing better returns on health, wellbeing and nutrition.
- It's great taste and texture all blended with the right composition of fats and fibres to enhance health and improve wellbeing.
- The dehydrated vegetable powder provides a natural colour (no INS numbers) that differentiates our product from standard, processed nuts. These colourings combine well to deliver a visually appealing finish to the coating.
- Vegetable coated nuts can be produced on existing snack processing lines or with minimum investment in coating pan/ oven/ fryer.
- Our Vegetable Coated Nut products deliver the balance between taste and health expectations of the consumers.

Our Vegetable Coated Nuts products are a unique combination of vegetables and nuts. These versatile, tasty treats blend healthy fibres and fats as part of a balanced diet through healthier snacking. Oven baked, and never fried, its oven baked or fried coating composition is derived from 20% dehydrated vegetable powder which delivers significant extra fibre and a signature crunch. They can be eaten in between meals or even used in meals to add extra flavour. A healthy snack alternative with great taste and texture!
